GOOD HOMES SECURED FOR A COU-PLE OF SLUM BOYS.

MRS. JESSIE ROBERTS' WORK

SAYS THIRD AND FOURTH ARE NOT THE ONLY BAD STREETS.

"Angel of the North End" Comes the Rescue of the Reputation of Her Chosen Field of Labor -Why Children Are

Not all the neglected children of the North end slums are to be left to their and damages in the Warwick boulevard fate or have the heavy hand of the law condemnation proceedings made a report fate or have the heavy hand of the law laid upon them. Mrs. Jessie Roberts, the "angel of the North end," has done effective and unselfish work among the slum children for years. She has just secured homes for two of the three children of Mrs. Kruse, of Second and Grand avenue. Charlie, 16 years old, has been adopted by E. A. McDonald, of Welch, I. T., who sent $2.75 yesterday to pay the boy's fare to his new home. Reuben, 8 years old, has found a home at 1621 Main street, and will later go on a farm.

"There is a great deal of talk at pres-the sad condition of the children of the North end. Allow me to give my opinion of the cause

"In the first place, there is no compulsory education. If there is, it is not enforced. I have begged mothers to send their children to the public school. The excuses were they had not decent clothing. Others seemed careless about it. Another reason given was that books cost so much they could not afford to buy them. I have frequently gone to the superintendent of the Washington public school and reported such cases. He gave them books.

"Another reason I give for the sad condition of the children of the North end is the lack of missionaries. Just think of a city with 200,000 inhabitants, with no city ssion organization. I don't know of a better city with such a population. I have been among those people for over eleven years, visiting from house to house, from Main east to Holmes, and know that the North end is 100 per cent better to-day. No minister or other good men would dare to visit the homes on Third street eleven years ago. The old Newmarket theater, one of the lowest dens in Kansas City, is gone now. Black and white used to live to gether on Third street; no such thing now, that I know of.

now, that I know of.

"I am proud of the progress of Kansas City since I arrived at the Union depot, and don't want to leave it until thede is a Kansas City. Mo., which the ministers of the Gospel and other good men will control and scatter missions all over the city. These respective missionaries who will visit from house to house, and see that the little children and their poor mothers are cared for and put a stop to all kinds of people starting missions over the divisions, collecting money and then quarrelining over the division.

"I want any poor family to know that I got good homes for two boys about two weeks ago, and have about twelve applicants for boys and girls, whom they wish to adopt. Remember Third and Fourth streets are not the only bad streets in Kansas City. There are lots of good people them at the North end."

All of the butchers and other workmen who wish to return will be given their places. In fact, they will be given their places. In fact, they will be given the preference."

The management claims that a number of the butchers have walted on them and asked for their time as they claim they can do better in some other place where there is less trouble going on. Others have signified a willingness to return to work if the house is made an open one and, in fact, a large majority of the union men seem to be disgusted with the acts of a few who have caused the trouble.

The tallow trimmers and other men who walked out claim the company is at fault in employing the two non-union men. The hiring of the men is left to the timekeeper at the plant and the men say that it should be done by the foremen who know whether or not a man is friendly to labor.

A number of the butchers were seen last night and all of them stated that they had no grievance and were compelled to quit work on account of the action of the other employes.
